Preparedness Month is enough to make some people sing aloud. How's your voice? Take the opportunity to lead your students in a chorus of the official "National Preparedness Month Song," sung to the tune of "She'll Be Comin' Round the Mountain."

National Preparedness Month Song

Written by teachers and students of Parks Elementary School in Oklahoma City, Okla.

Oh, September is the month to get prepared
For emergencies at home or anywhere
So now get your act together
Be prepared for stormy weather.
Oh, September is the month to get prepared.

Know some basic stuff goes in your disaster kit,
So be sure to make a list and don't forget
Make your family plans together
Be prepared for any weather
Oh, September is the month to get prepared.

You need tools and food and water for three days.
Also, radio, flashlight batteries for your stay.
Grab your first aid kit and some clothes to wear.
Don't forget your underwear!
Oh, September is the month to get prepared.

Oh, September is the month to get prepared.
You will know just what to do and not be scared.
So let's get our kits together
We're prepared for stormy weather
Cause September is the month to be prepared.
